ACA Talent Acquires New Software Technology to Create Innovative Recruitment Branding and Sourcing Methods

Fort Lauderdale, FL (March 3, 2006)- ACA Talent, a leading provider of Recruitment Process Outsourcing (RPO) solutions is now utilizing a unique software solution that allows for enhanced recruitment sourcing and branding strategies via e-mail as part of our technology toolkit.

The new software embeds images and links inside e-mail messages, allowing them to automatically appear when the e-mail is opened, unlike most systems which require users to accept or allow image downloads and are usually marked as spam by e-mail filters.

Additionally, the software provides the ability to take a webpage/image interface and integrate it into a personalized e-mail. The e-mail message can consist of pictures, audio, video, animation, and interactive links that resemble a corporation's established branding.

"Launching this new technology creates new methods of reaching candidates while providing clients with branded messages going directly to potential employees," says Kary Capi-Gunn, CEO of ACA Talent. "This will innovate the way companies recruit talent, by allowing features such as career centers, job postings, company information, and online applications all in one appealing compact location: the candidates inbox," adds Capi-Gunn.

"The best part about the method, is expanding the interactivity of one of the fastest growing communication methods today, especially as it relates to increasing two-way communication with candidates and clients," states Capi-Gunn
